FOREWORD

To build, is our aim, not a structure of mortar and stone, but an episode in the monument of history that shall enclose within it, stories of the buildings and builders of the American University.

On the ancient sands of Egypt were pyramids that endure;
Reared by early builders.

A glory that was Rome Reflected in the buildings and the builders of the Empire.

DEDICATION

To Bishop John W. Hamilton, and to the memory of Bishop Franklin Hamilton, two master-craftsmen, we affectionately dedicate the 1929
AUCOLA

Majesty and beauty, a cathedral carved from stone; where builders of the Middle Ages toiled,

Junior Class History

IN SEPTEMBER the Class of 1930 returned to A. U. to face the greater glories and greater duties of the Junior year. In all lines of student activity Juniors have taken an outstanding and commendable part. Having overcome the dangers of Freshman greenness and Sophomore super-sophistication, we have attacked the problems of our new estate with quiet confidence and determination, under the leadership of our newly chosen president, Jack Lafavre.

The paramount duty of the Junior class, the publication of the AUCOLA, was entrusted to Milton Crist, editor, and Raymond Spaeth, business manager. The result of their labor is seen in this year's AUCOLA. Juniors were also prominent in the publication of the Eagle. Four of the members of the editorial staff were Juniors, and the most popular feature of the paper was the column, "Around-the-World-with-Wally," written by our own jovial Junior, Wallowitz.

The leadership of the whole college in Student Government was entrusted to a Junior, Lee Field. Mr. Field also won some renown with his orchestra, "The College Commanders," which has been in demand for college dances the last two years.

In the dramatic work of the college, Juniors have taken an outstanding rôle during our entire career. As far back as our Freshman year, Lucille Sparks played the feminine lead in the Spring play. Sophomore year again found the class of '30, playing the leads in the persons of George Sixbey, Milton Crist, Lucille Sparks, Laura Barrett, and Sara Martz, comedienne extraordinaire. This year George Sixbey was elected president of the Dramatic Club.

The record of the football team this year will not be remembered for the brilliant scores, but those of us who watched them fight with undying courage against heavier, more experienced teams will not be likely to forget the spirit and valor shown on the gridiron. Here again Juniors did their part. The newspapers were unanimous in their praise of "Tiny" Crist, quarterback, while Lafavre, Wallowitz, and Field were in the play all the time.

The basketball team, captained by Jack Lafavre, enjoyed a successful season. The work of Leon Schloss, another Junior, contributed largely to its success.

Juniors were prominent in co-ed athletics, also. Alice Hetzel, "Marty" Bricker, "Beth" Hill, Delsie Appel, and Mary Chadwick played on the varsity hockey team, which tied with G. W.

When the office of Student Comptroller was created by the Administration, it was necessary to go to the Junior Class to find the man capable of filling the place. Edwin Kelbaugh was chosen.

It is safe to say that no activity in the college has been entirely slighted by the Class of 1930. But in spite of its many duties, it has not forgotten its scholastic obligation and its record is high in studies.

We feel that our Junior year has been successful because we have given all that our talent allows to American. But as we pass into our Senior year we sing with Pauline Frederick:

"American—Alma Mater,
Lead on—the day is new;
The march begun must yet be won
To the glory of Orange and Blue."

who played good football at a halfback post, will be lost to the team by graduation.

"MILT" CRIST

captain elect for the coming season, exhibited the greatest amount of fight during the last campaign and no doubt will be the star again next fall.

"DICK" JARVIS

flashy play in the backfield was the feature of the 1928 encounters.

"RED" OLSEN'S

deadly forward pass was a constant thorn in the side of the opposition last year.

"CHUBBLES" FOLSTON

mammoth fullback, performed nobly in a position new to him.

"Tom" MARTIN

did a good job on the line, and should be a strong guard this season.

ERIC FRIEDHEIM

was a fast combination of spirit, grit, and good football which will be valuable to next year's team.

"HUBBY" ELLIOT

constituted one of the strongest of the reserve forces, and undoubtedly will fill a varsity berth in the backfield next season.

ROLAND RICE

graduates this year and so the college loses one of its notable linemen.

RUSSELL LAMBERT

disported his 210 pound bulk at a tackle.

"WALLY" WOLOWITZ

one of the strongest men on the line for three seasons should wind up his football career with a blaze of glory.

"JACK" LAFAYRE

by far the strongest tackle in the history of the school, will be back again filling up the line.

HENRY JOHNSON'S

scrappy spirit and hard play soon won him the center position, and great things are expected of him during his remaining football years.

ROLAND PARRISH

did well at guard after playing with the scrubs for three campaigns.

The King is Dead

Long live the king! There passes with this year's pioneer class of seniors another pioneer, well-known to us all. This one is George Baillie Springston, popularly known as "Ballie." Whether this nomer was pinned on the rotund "Napoleon" because he is a lawyer or because the whole name is too much of a mouthful for mere college boys to pronounce is of no matter. What we want to tell the world is what was accomplished under his régime. Remember, in 1925, A. U. was a school with the enormous enrollment of 81 boys and girls. Half of these were boys and 90 per cent of these were out for football the day after school opened.

Next September a new man will take the place as skipper of A. U.'s athletic barque. Let those of us who are still here and those of us who leave this June remember the man who placed the Golden Eagle in the respected position where it reposes today. Respected for its sportsmanship and valor and its always—clean play.

Let us now briefly survey athletics as they have been at A. U. in the past four years.

FOOTBALL

The first eleven averaged 152 pounds. Three games were played. All were lost. It was this team which set the precedent of playing George Washington with every ounce of fight they had. Five first downs were reeled off by the Orange and Blue in this struggle. Van Hise, Bittinger, and Billbrough cavorted at end, Speer and Gerth, tackles; Spence, Young, and Parrish, guards; Atkinson, center; Gray and Reynolds, quarterbacks; Clark and Christie, halves; Beaver and Beasley, fullbacks.

BASKETBALL

Seven games were played, with A. U. victorious over the C. U. frosh, and defeated by the Maryland frosh, Gallaudet, twice; Georgetown Frosh, twice; C. U. frosh, once. "Ole Tom" Sawyer did yeoman duty throughout the season, but he was ably assisted by Bittinger, Clark, and Reynolds, forwards; Billbrough and Hayward, centers; Christie and Sullivan, guards. Sawyer was captain of this first court club, and those of us who remember him will always think of him as gentleman, athlete, and friend to all.

Seeley N. (Doc) Gray managed athletics for both teams in this year.

FOOTBALL

Coaches' heaven! Springston found thirty stalwarts (more or less) waiting anxiously for the '26 season. Eight games were played with this result: four wins, three losses, one tie. For a student body of 140, A. U. put forth with the whole hearted coöperation of all concerned a crackerjack of an eleven. Light but fast, inexperienced but fighters, about covers it. "Big Jim" Birthright captained the team and did the kicking and passing from a half-back post. Sawyer proved to be one of the ablest fullbacks in the section. "Babe" Silverstone, "Colie" Christie, "Milt" Crist, and "Dutch" Schloss filled the other halfback rôles. "Jerry" Mellon called signals. The line found "Bitt" and George Dare at ends, Gerth and Begg at tackles, Cranford, Sullivan and Wolowitz at guards, and La Frenz and Caples at center. Notable among the accomplishments of this club was the tie achieved with Blue Ridge, the crushing defeat of Shenandoah, and the wonderful game against G. W., which ended 27-7 in favor of our deadly rivals.

BASKETBALL

Five newcomers to A. U. took it upon their shoulders to place A. U. on the basketball map, and they succeeded nobly. These were "Bill" Banta and Bruce Kessler, guards; "Jim" Birthright, center; "Hub" Elliott and Leon Schloss, forwards. Sawyer was elected captain of the court squad and played at forward. The Golden Eagle found triumph in sixteen contests and accepted defeat but four times. Many of us will never forget the glorious victories over Maryland, George Washington, and Gettysburg. And as one of the aforementioned players writes this, he can earnestly state that the support offered the team by the student body was miraculous and inspiring. The outstanding player, perhaps, was "Bill" Banta, who placed second to "Ray" Foley in the District Scoring Column, and completely outplayed that worthy in the final game of the season. Injuries played havoc with the team in the later season. Birthright fractured an ankle in the N. Y. U. game, which, incidentally, was placed in the bag by a 30-16 score. Able assistance was rendered the regulars by Christie, Gerth, and La Frenz.

FOOTBALL

Alas! One of the lean years. Our captain, Sawyer, was forced to withdraw from school. "Bill" Caples, a great old lineman, was elected to replace him. But one game of seven was won, that from Blue Ridge, 38-0. Only the hardest of luck prevented another victory, that from Bridgwater. The score of this game was 7-6. Bittinger and Sleepy Lowe were the ends, Gerth and Begg the tackles, Sullivan and Wolowitz, guards; Caples, center; Crist, quarter; Field and Christie, halves; Shloss, fullback. Who will forget Lee getting knocked cold three times handrunning and coming back for more? Shloss' running seventy yards to within three yards of the winning touchdown, only to tangle heels with a clump of grass and spill ignominiously? The usual great struggle against G. W. with its score of 27-0, standing as a monument to Orange and Blue valor? "Wolly" and "Sully," our pair of fighting Irish guards, sidekickers for three seasons?

FOOTBALL

Donald Bittinger, four times end, received the captaincy of this year's grid club. One victory and one tie was achieved. Material was scarce, but spirit was plenty. "Sleepy" held down the other end, Rice, Martin, and Parrish' tackles; "Wolly" and "Sully," guards; Henry Johnson, center; Crist, quarter; Lynn Corson, Lee Field, "Hubby" Elliott, "Red" Olsen, halves, and Folston and Friedheim, fullbacks. G. W. was held to a 19-0 score.

BASKETBALL

real victory over George Washington served to lighten the burden plenty, however. The team which started the season was composed of Boots Scruggs and Leon Shloss, forwards; "Jim" Birthright; center; and Bruce Kessler and Woodson Birthright, guards. Several members of the aforementioned were forced to withdraw, and the new lineup saw "Courty" Hayward in center, "Jim" and "Woody" Birthright in guards, and "Bill" Caples and Lee Field in forwards, along with Jack La Favre. Bittinger, of three year football fame, came out and proved himself adept at the game. Six victories as against nine defeats reads the record. Big Jim was picked on the all-college five as a result of his herculean efforts.

BASKETBALL

Shades of Billy Banta! There came to our campus this year one Forrest Burgess, a local lad, who has brought memories of old back afloat. In the season just completed, Captain Jack La Favre, renowned football tackle, led his court squad to ten victories as against six defeats. Burgess and La Favre, forwards, Lichtler, center; Kessler and Shloss, guards has been the starting line-up, but four valiants have backed them up nobly, namely, Bridgewater was licked and Shenandoah tied. The play of "Milt" Crist, captain-elect, stood out along with "Bitt's" fine work at end.

FOOTBALL

BASKETBALL

"Hub" Elliott, "Lee" Field, Carl Levin, and "Bill" Washburn. G. W. was twice licked beyond recognition and defeats of old at the hands of C. U. were avenged in satisfactory style. St. John's and Baltimore U., along with Gallaudet, must be included in the list of major rivals licked. Burgess, as Banta did in '26, found second place in Sectional scoring, and was picked as all-college. Schloss, guard, was accorded a position on the second all-college.

DEBATE SCHEDULE—CONTINUED

- March 8—Women—New York University at New York.
March 9—Women—Boston University at Boston University.
March 15—Men—Triangular debate—Western Maryland, William and Mary, and American University.
March 19—Men—Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota, at American University.
April 4—Men—Boston University at American University.
April 11—Women—New York University at American University.

Debate

THE outstanding features of the debate season were extended northern trips for both the men's and women's teams. Additions to the schedule made it possible for the men's team to include New York University and Princeton University on their trip March 1st. The women's trip on March 7th included Emerson College of Oratory and Boston University, in Boston, and New York University.

Outstanding men's teams that visited Washington were from Carleton, Boston University, Princeton University, New York University, and Western Reserve.

The season opened with a successful clash with George Washington University for the men, and two victories for the women in a triangular debate with Western Maryland College, and Hood College.

Interest in debate has been increased by the use of four different subjects—Resolved: that complete freedom of speech and press is unsound, and Resolved: that the present jury system should be abolished, were used most frequently. The other questions for debate were—Resolved: that American civilization cannot advance under democracy, and Resolved: that national advertising is a social and economic menace.

Freshmen debaters, this year, were organized into a special class. Discussion of debate technique preceded general practice. The Freshmen were organized into teams to offer opposition to the varsity debaters, as well as to train the former in the art of debate.

College Calendar

As is generally known, there are calendars of all types. The kind which has aristocratic leanings, often rates the parlor, while the bourgeois calendar seldom gets farther than the dining room. Then there is the kitchen calendar, which is usually the gift of the grocer. But in our classification—let us pause for a moment in silent mourning for the calendar whose life is so obliterated in its infancy; the type which is so very ugly that it needs must be instantly thrust into the blazing stove. Unappalled at the great variety of calendars in existence now, the AUCOLA Staff insists that a new species be created to go toddling down the corridors of time. Its form is as follows:

September 18—The Chancellor of the University gave a reception for the members of the Faculty only. None of the students bothered to attend.

September 19—The Chapel doors having once again been opened, the opening exercises were opened by Dr. Elmer Morgan of the National Education Association, which opened the fourth session of the College of Liberal Arts.

September 21—The faculty and students were very pleasant with one another at the reception held in their respective honors.

September 28—New students stared at old students and old students stared at new students at the first All College Frolic of the year.

October 21—On this Sunday the campus swarmed with dads, papas, and fathers and now and then an occasional mamma, for it was Dad's day at the University.

October 23—We gathered in chapel to hear the president of DePauw University discuss a simplification of the simplification of the Einstein Theory of Relativity, and other things.

October 24—On this day a Hungarian pianist entered chapel and flitted here and there over the keyboard with alacrity.

October 26—The only persons who didn't enjoy the Hallowe'en dinner were those who did not attend.

November 3—Dark the Gymnasium but light the feet at the Brecky Club dance, for the fuses had blown.

November 10—Every one, from the little boy eating peanuts in the back row to the deaf old gentleman at the extreme front of the hall, was the supreme model of interested attention during the musical lecture of Dr. Sigmund Spaeth.

November 16—The gymnasium greatly resembled a Turkish Bazaar during the foreign dinner of the Women's Guild. A greater variety of objects, animate and inanimate, one never saw—bishops, chancellors, tiaras, foreign waitresses, bass drums, dancers, ambassadors, and basketball nets were only a small part of the great whole.

November 22—No one in chapel had an open book on his knees when Zelaya, the Nicaraguan pianist, sat at the Steinway Grand. The music was so beautiful that even the heartless attendance monitors could not restrain an occasional tear of unrestrained happiness.

November 27-December 4—The students went home for the Thanksgiving holidays in order to pursue their studies.

December 7—The mid-semester grades having already been handed in, the Faculty Woman's Club tried to make amends to the students by giving a party.

December 12—Milton B. Crist, who spends his Sundays in the capacity of a minister and his week days frying his foes on the gridiron, was elected captain of the football team at its annual banquet.

December 18—Classes were sorrowfully given up for Christmas Holidays.

January 11—South African students descended on the University like wolves on the fold, liking neither American prohibition nor ice-cream served in the winter season.

January 12—"Shakespeare's Women" were discussed by Mrs. Forbes-Robertson Hale. Many authorities on the subject were in the audience.

January 30—Because he was a neighbor and an accommodating one, David Lawrence, president of the "United States Daily," gave a chapel address on "The Trend of the Times." The half hour passed pleasantly.

February 2—"The Jesters' Club," living up to its cognomen, elaborately decorated one ball-room and held its dance in another, thus completely outwitting its guests, who wandered distractedly hither and yon. At length, a general assemblage took place in the gymnasium, where "jest and youthful jollity" reigned.

February 12—Mr. William Knowles Cooper, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., gave a Lincoln Day address in chapel, but did not stay for the afternoon tea of the Women's Guild at the Residence Hall.

February 22, March 2, and March 8, 9—These dates represent a battery of extemporaneous speaking contests in which awards were awarded to those who won awards. On the other hand, those that did not receive awards were awarded nothing.

March 16—The great emancipator and Saint of Ireland, Patrick, was born ages ago today. In appreciation of this fact a tasty dinner a la St. Patrick was disposed of by the student body.

March 22—All the College frolicked at the All College Frolic, which was replete with:

"Quips and cranks and wanton wiles.
Nods and becks and wreathed smiles."

April 5—The art of "Terpsichore" advanced just one step farther when the Sophomores invited the college to trip the light fantastic toe at their annual dance.

Thus, one after another, the events came tumbling over us, and now nothing is left but memories; but let us look to the future, for there is one as a man by the name of Shakespeare so aptly put it:

"Tomorrow and tomorrow,
Creeps in this petty pace from day to day
To the last syllable of recorded time."

The Brecky Club is composed of graduates of Central High School of Washington, and was formed to interest the high school students in American University. The club is purely social, the members of the various Washington high schools being the guests of honor at the dances and card parties. The first event of the year was a masquerade on November 3rd, and the second a dance on January 5th. Each of these was a great success (socially and financially). Clever decorations, good music, and "eats" added to the enjoyment.

THE MILL

Do you know who the laziest man in the world is?"

"No; who is he?"

"The man who said, 'Moonbeam, Kiss Her for Me'."

"I want to see the head of the house."

"You'll have to wait a minute—they're just deciding it."

Nick: "A modern boy is one who knows what she wants when she wants it."

Jack: "I earn my way through college illustrating love stories."

Helen: "Please tell me one, with illustrations."

Ray: "Ruth, will you marry me?"

Ruth: "Y-e-s."

Host (appearing on darkened veranda): "Are you young folks all enjoying yourselves?"

(Absolute silence.)

Host (returning indoors: "That's fine."

"Every time she smiles it reminds me of a Pullman car at 8 o'clock in the evening."

"Howsat?"

"No lowers, and very few uppers left."

Otis: "Some day you editors will fight for my poems."

Editor: "Well, I always was a good loser."

First Student: "So the President just expelled you—huh. What did you say to him?"

Second Student: "I congratulated him for turning out such fine young men."

Prof.: "In which of his battles was Alexander the Great killed?"

Frosh: "I think it was his last."

Wire to Father: "Where is the money I wrote for last week?"

Answer: "In my inside vest pocket."

THE FATAL QUESTION

Joe: "I'm telling you for the last time that you can't kiss me."

Leon: "I knew you'd weaken."

Soph: "The Freshman seems to be wrapped in thought."

Junior: "He must be chilly—so thinly clad."

Broadmindedness is the ability to smile when you suddenly discover that your room-mate and your girl are missing from the dance floor.

THE BIG PARADE

Our father slipped upon the ice
Because he couldn't stand;
He saw the glorious stars and stripes,
We saw our father land.

Maid: "You know that old vase, mum, you said 'ad bin 'anded down from generation to generation."

Mistress (anxiously): "Yes?"

Maid: "Well, this generation has dropped it."

She: "What do you think of Il Penseroso?"

He: "It's the best ten-cent cigar on the market."

OUR GLEE CLUB

HERE HE COMES!

FRED'S CAMPUS CAR

I have a campus car.
It never breaks down.
It never takes girls out on a lonely road.
It never skids.
It never gets a puncture.
It has never been in a collision or an accident.
I wish to goodness I could get the darn thing started.

Aviator (to negro): "Want to fly?"

Negro: "No, suh; ah stays on terrah firma, and the more firmah, the less terrah."

Red: "What are you writing?"

Eric: "A joke."

Red: "Well, give her my regards."

Cal: "A man after my own heart, said Antonio, as Shylock approached.

He was touring Europe,
She was safe at home.
He wrote a letter to her
When he arrived at Rome.
"I enjoyed Florence greatly,
Be home soon, love from Will."
She quickly called back to him,
"Keep Florence, I love Bill."

Jack (being arrested): "But, officer, I'm a student."

Officer: "Ignorance is no excuse."

"John."

"Yes, honey."

"Am I the only girl whose money you ever loved?"

Dr. Jackson (passenger): "Oh, captain, can you tell me when the tide rises? I want to close my portholes."

GOIN' TO THE "WOODS"

FRED CARPENTER'S PHILOSOPHY

I I think that I shall never see
An F as lovely as a B.
A B whose rounded form is pressed
Upon the records of the blessed.
An F comes easily—and yet,
It isn't easy to forget;
F's are made by fools like me,
But only God could make a B.

"After college, what?"
thundered the chapel speaker.
"Vacation," chorused the collegiates.

Visitor: "Does Mr. Burton, a student, live here?"

Landlady: "Well, Mr. Burton lives here, but I thought he was the nightwatchman."

Jimmie: "Is your father Scotch?"

Bit: "I'll say. He was born here to save the trip over."

Mary Jane: "Hello, little freshman boy, wotcha doing?"

Dan: "Git along, lady, git along. I'm remembering my promise to mother."

"Bert, do you love me?"

"Yes."

"Would you be willing to live on my income?"

"Yes—if you'll get another for yourself."

Hubby: "If you keep looking like that, I'll kiss you."

Louise: "Well, I can't keep this expression forever."

8:15 AT THE MEN'S DORM

Sam: "Darling, I would die for you."

Jean: "Nay, nay, Sam—I know too many dead ones."

Oscar calls his girl "Dandruff" because she's always falling on his neck.

"Did you know that Freddie talks in his sleep?"

"No, does he?"

"Sure thing—he recited in class this morning."

"I think there is company downstairs."

"Why?"

"I just heard mama laugh at one of pop's jokes."

Betty Jacoby: "Love is like hash. You have to have a lot of confidence in it to enjoy it."
